

Vibrant Colour Exploration

Three directions rooted in Nigerian visual culture.

Informed by: Eddie Opara (Pentagram) · Jessica Walsh · Dá Design Studio (Lagos)
Karabo Poppy · Rolls-Royce 2024 rebrand precedent · Adire textile tradition

CURRENT BSF PALETTE

Danfo Orange

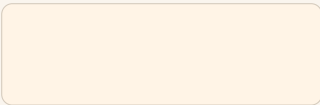

#FF8800

Lagos danfo buses, market signage, palm oil in sunlight

Jessica Walsh's Plenty rebrand proved that breaking category color norms is how you get seen. Every Nigerian nonprofit is green and brown. This is the color of Lagos itself – kinetic, warm, impossible to ignore. Eddie Opara would call this 'pulsing with immediacy.'

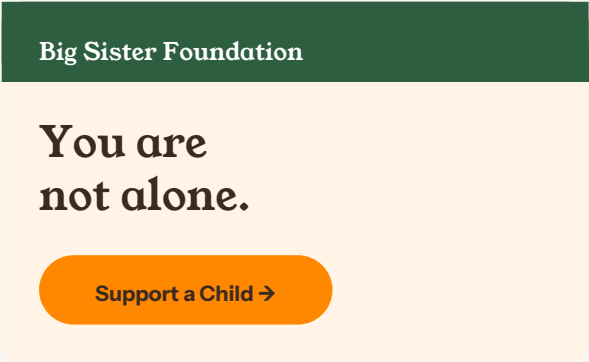

Informed by: Walsh + Opara

SOFT SECONDARY

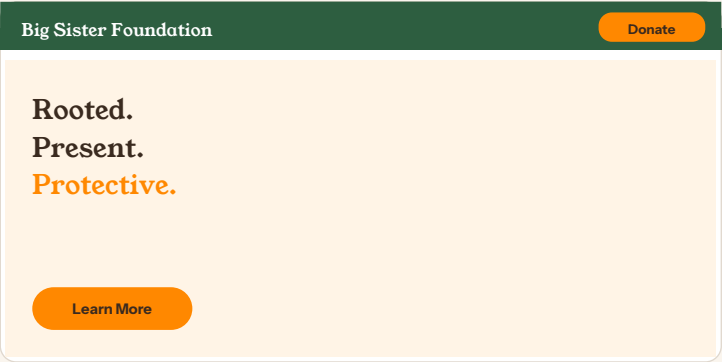

Morning Haze
#FFF4E6

SOCIAL MEDIA CARD

WEBSITE HERO

FULL PALETTE WITH NEW ACCENT

Iroko

Brown

Terra

Danfo

Gold

Morning

Cream

Zobo Magenta

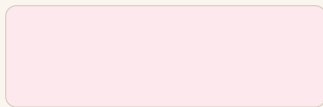

#E4175B

Hibiscus/zobo held to light, ankara magenta, bougainvillea

Dá Design Studio's principle: work within Nigerian visual culture, don't sanitize it. Zobo is communal, it's what you serve guests. Magenta is the least expected color in the nonprofit space — Karabo Poppy would use it without hesitation. It's feminine strength, not fragility.

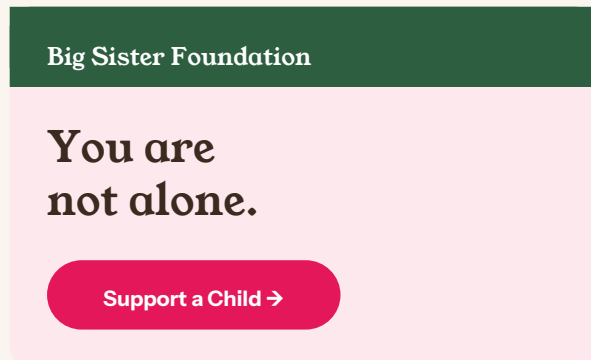

Informed by: Dá Studio + Karabo Poppy

SOFT SECONDARY

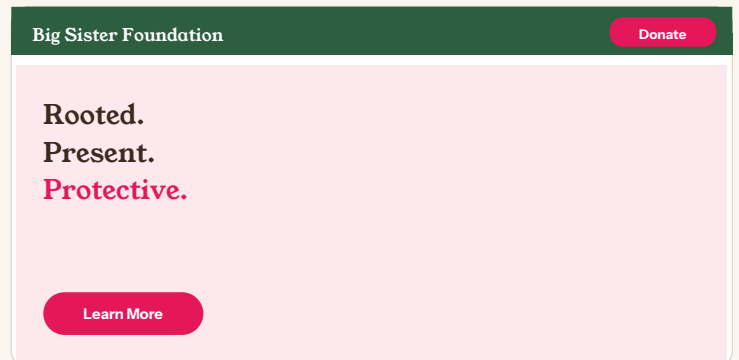

Petal
#FDE8EE

SOCIAL MEDIA CARD

WEBSITE HERO

FULL PALETTE WITH NEW ACCENT

Iroko

Brown

Terra

Zobo

Gold

Petal

Cream

Electric Indigo

#4F46E5

Yoruba adire cloth dyed 25+ times, electrified for screens

The oldest Nigerian color tradition, made contemporary. Rolls-Royce's 2024 rebrand proved even the most conservative brands can go electric. Indigo against your Iroko Green creates a cool-warm tension that Opara's Color Works calls 'chromatic dialogue.' Nobody in your space is using blue.

Informed by: Opara + Rolls-Royce precedent

SOFT SECONDARY

Indigo Wash
#EEF0FF

SOCIAL MEDIA CARD

Big Sister Foundation

You are not alone.

Support a Child →

WEBSITE HERO

Big Sister Foundation

Donate

Rooted.
Present.
Protective.

Learn More

FULL PALETTE WITH NEW ACCENT

Iroko

Brown

Terra

Electric

Gold

Indigo

Cream

Head to Head

All three accents on Iroko Green. Which one stops you?

Direction 1

Danfo Orange

Lagos danfo buses, market signage, palm oil in sunlight

Walsh + Opara

Direction 2

Zobo Magenta

Hibiscus/zobo held to light, ankara magenta, bougainvillea

Dá Studio + Karabo Poppy

Direction 3

Electric Indigo

Yoruba adire cloth dyed 25+ times, electrified for screens

Opara + Rolls-Royce precedent

The Walsh Principle

"If everyone in your category is earthy and quiet, being vibrant is the differentiator. The accent color is not decoration — it's how you get seen."

Derived from Walsh's Plenty (vertical farming) rebrand — broke earthy-category norms with fast-food-bright accents